Hey Ms. Taubman,

No problem! However, unless I publish the Wix site, which may be problematic moving forward, I can only send you screenshots. I have attached the screenshots below.

On the homepage, we would like to manipulate one block of text and an image across websites. Specifically, the screenshot of the picture of a BlueLight Callbox and the text beside it is what we would be changing across the websites. Other than that the home, about, products and services, and careers pages will not need to vary from the original website. Also, the screenshots are just a guide for some of the information we think would help make the website appear more authentic - there is definitely some room for creativity.

Thanks for your quick response!
